

An addictive
new spy series for Alex Rider fans
who love breathless
plot, cutting-edge
tech and action-
packed adventure.

3rd March 2022
9781406394931 • PB
£7.99 • 9 years +
eBook available

When their families mysteriously disappear, Swift and Hawk, teen experts in AI and robotics, are recruited by the secretive Möbius Programme to crack an unbreakable code. They are immediately plunged into a life-and-death rescue mission, that takes them from hidden tunnels beneath the British Museum, to the dangerous docklands of Amsterdam in search of the mysterious ship Nightfall. Caught in a treacherous world of spies and saboteurs, Swift and Hawk will be pushed to the limit as they follow a trail that leads to the remote island of Spøklestark, and straight into the hands of a dark and chilling enemy.

LOGAN MACX is the pseudonym of Edward Docx and Matthew Plampin. Say hello @LoganMacx1

EDWARD DOCX is a bestselling novelist and journalist, whose second novel, Self Help, won The Geoffrey Faber Prize and was longlisted for the Man Booker Prize. His novels are translated and published all over the world. As a journalist, he has been listed for the Orwell Prize and he has written for all the major magazines and newspapers – most frequently the Guardian and the New Statesman. He also writes for television and film, and is currently working on a screenplay of his novel Let Go My Hand. Find him at @EdwardDocx.

MATTHEW PLAMPIN is the author of four acclaimed historical novels. His most recent novel, Mrs Whistler, was shortlisted for the 2019 HWA Gold Crown and was chosen as a book of the summer by the Sunday Times and the Mail on Sunday. Matthew studied at the Courtauld Institute of Art, London, and now lectures in nineteenth century art and architecture. Say hello at @MatthewPlampin.

For more information, press requests or review copies, please contact Head of Publicity, Lizz Skelly
lizz.skelly@walker.co.uk